IMPORTANT NOTICE AND DECLARATION

p>Anadolu University Open Education Faculty offers associate and bachelor's degree programs. The faculty aims to provide accessible learning environments for all, based on the principle of equal opportunity in education. Students enrolled in the Open Education Faculty International Programs have the same rights as students in Türkiye. In terms of legal regulations and student rights, there is no difference between students in Türkiye and those residing abroad. Only individuals residing abroad may apply to International Programs. Unless otherwise stated, the language of instruction in programs offered by the Open Education Faculty is Turkish.

Printed books will not be provided to students registered in International Programs. Students can access all course materials (e books, audiobooks, interactive videos, e seminars, etc.) digitally through Anadolun eCampus Learning Management System (ekampus.anadolu.edu.tr) using the password sent to them after registration. To continue education, students must renew their registration at the beginning of each term as stated in the academic calendar and pay the term instructional material fee. Announcements regarding exams, student status, and academic services will be published on globalcampus.anadolu.edu.tr. No additional notification will be provided through other communication channels. Online announcements will serve as official notifications.

Open Education Programs are conducted through distance education. Therefore, class attendance is not mandatory. Exams may be conducted face-to-face under supervision and/or online. For face-to-face exams, the exam centers selected during registration will be considered. Registering in a program offered by the Open Education Faculty does not guarantee a student visa.

Students of Anadolu University's International Programs are subject to all current laws and regulations, including the Turkish Higher Education Legislation, just like other students in Türkiye. Requests for exemption based on local laws will not be accepted. Eskişehir courts are authorized for resolving any disputes that may arise between parties.

After final registration or re-registration in the International Programs of Anadolu University, the university reserves the right to make changes in academic practices or courses based on new legal regulations or decisions by the Council of Higher Education. These changes cannot be challenged.

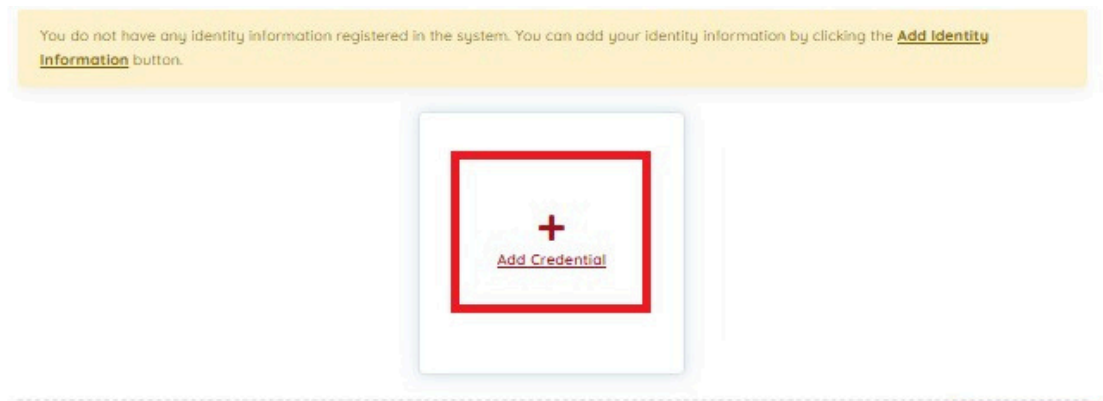

Students registering or re-registering in the International Programs are deemed to have accepted the "Anadolu University Open Education Faculty Education and Examination Regulation" and the Turkish Higher Education Legislation.
